OUR MISSION

ONE LOVE WORLDWIDE IS A NONPROFIT ORGANIZATION
WORKING WITH COMMUNITIES
TO IMPLEMENT LONG-TERM
SUSTAINABLE SOLUTIONS TO THE
GLOBAL WATER CRISIS

A WORD FROM OUR FOUNDER

In 2019, we maintained our existing projects, completed 11 new water projects and finally drilled a borehole at our Ghana headquarters. We devoted more funding toward One Love Special Projects, and a designated donation funded a massive cinder block wall securing our compound. As 2019 came to an end, I planned to return to Ghana to inspect projects, fix plaques and photograph our work to share with you. Instead, COVID-19 arrived.

May 10, 2020, marked 10 years since One Love Worldwide's inception! I was looking forward to celebrating with our supporters and returning to Ghana alongside my friend and OLV Board Member, Kelli Claussen. We sadly canceled and quarantined. Despite the pandemic, our devoted supporters generously donated and our crew completed seven water projects.

We send our love and prayers to the many people affected by COVID, and we thank the Most High for our health and safety. After COVID restrictions lifted in 2021, we completed six water projects. Our crew was headed home from water project work when an oncoming driver lost control and crashed into our 4x4. The airbags protected everyone, but the 4x4 sustained major damage. The oncoming driver was found liable, but efforts to collect payment have been unbelievably challenging. Without a vehicle, we focused on our One Love Special Projects, as well as improvements to our headquarters.

The above-mentioned circumstances kept me in America. I was grateful to finally return to Ghana to visit project sites and photograph our accomplishments to share with you. As I first said about Ghana in 2009, "it gets in your soul." The joy of providing the gift of water always surpasses our many challenges. During the worst of times, your unexpected donations timely arrive and overpower all doubt. Thank you for providing me with the opportunity of a lifetime. . . the chance to travel to remote corners of the globe to show love and get clean water. Together, we have provided over 74,500 people with safe access to clean water. You are the force behind all that we do. Thank you for a decade of your love, support and prayers. Cheers to 10 years!

One love,

Karli Sue McMurray, Founder

WATER IS LIFE

Yet, every year, diseases like diarrhea, cholera and typhoid fever cause millions of illnesses and deaths that can be prevented with better WASH practices.

At the onset of COVID-19, 3 in 10 people worldwide could not wash their hands with soap and water within their homes.

In 2020, around 1 in 4 people lacked access to safely managed drinking water in their homes.<sup>1</sup>

As we continue battling these shocking statistics, we are making a positive impact through safe access to clean water, one community at a time.

With their pump inoperable, we found members of the Ayensuso community fetching this river water. Safe access to clean water changes everything. See page 16 to view Ayensuso's new source of clean water.

OUR APPROACH

All too often, groups outside the water industry drill boreholes and leave. The pump goes without routine maintenance and soon after stops working.

Through our water rehabilitation program, we work with communities to create long-term sustainable solutions to the water crisis. We establish a community water team, repair the pump and prepare the team to sell their water and efficiently manage their system. The community maintains ownership of the borehole and is engaged in each step of the project. With over a decade of experience in Ghana's water industry, our approach has proven to be successful many times over. Without a doubt, community involvement is key to the long-term success of a water project.

We are proud to share with you our 24 water projects completed for 2019, 2020 and 2021.

Since we built our OLW headquarters in 2013, we have not had a borehole. For six years, we fetched water from the Teacher Mante community borehole that we drilled in 2010. We hauled five gallon jerry cans three at a time on a motorcycle, fetched the water and returned to fill 60 gallon drums at the house. We put others first, as we had 54 water projects before drilling this borehole. We definitely know the value of safe access to clean water and are grateful to have running water.

Duodukrom's water source was in bad condition. We offered to rehabilitate their pump if the community repaired the cement platform. When a community is invested in their water source, they take care of it. With some persistence on our part, the community nicely repaired their platform, and we repaired their pump.

2020

One Love Worldwide originated in 2010 after our founder's 2009 visit to the village of Teacher Mante. Our very first project was drilled in this community. Our headquarters is located here; this is our hometown. As we celebrated a decade of work in Ghana, we completed another project in Teacher Mante. Cheers to 10 years!

We found this community fetching from an open well by dropping a bucket down with a rope and hauling it back to the top. They needed help.

Without maintenance and support, communities often attempt to repair their own water system without the requisite knowledge. This almost always leads to problems, including parts falling into the hole. Our crew has experience in fishing detached pipes; however, it is a tedious process that can take days. For Nira pumps, like this one, retrieval techniques include filling the hole with water to help free the pipe and bring it back to the top. Finding water to fill this hole was one of many major obstacles we faced. The community gathered and worked alongside us to support the project.

Our team made multiple visits and ultimately retrieved the detached pipe from the bottom of the borehole. A special thanks to the One Love Crew for their effort on this project.

We asked the girls (p. 20) to show us where they fetch water. Their pump was inoperable, so they lead us through the bush to a small reservoir of rain water. After several visits to this community, we repaired the pump and made sure they are all fetching clean water.

ONE LOVE SPECIAL PROJECTS

Special Projects assists with access to healthcare and education, accommodations and more. We also enjoy celebrating special occasions. Here are some of the children we have supported.

FINANCIALS

Even in the midst of a pandemic, our supporters continued to donate, thereby enabling us to continue to provide those in need with safe access to clean water. In 2019, we received a substantial donation designated for improvements to our Ghana headquarters, so you will see that reflected in our financials. We are proud and grateful for our in-kind donations that help keep our operating costs low. We proudly maintain our financial transparency; our supporters will never wonder how our funds are used. Thanks to our donors for their hard work and generosity; you truly make our work possible.

INCEPTION INFORMATION: In 2009, Karli Sue McMurray traveled to Ghana, Africa, as part of a summer law program. Her life-changing experience inspired her to take action for a different type of justice: the right to clean water. She founded One Love Worldwide and drilled the first borehole in Ghana in 2010. She graduated from OCU School of Law in 2011. She is a licensed attorney in New Mexico working full time for OLW. OLW has 78 water projects serving over 74,500 people.
